Professional Experience

Kris is an Advocate and Solicitor with the Supreme Court of Singapore.

Kris started his legal career in 2 of the four Big Four Singapore law firms, in corporate work, litigation and commercial arbitration. He was quick to move up the ranks, with specialisation in building and construction law, contractual and commercial disputes, and with clientele spanning across Multi-National Corporations, Small and Medium Enterprises as well as individuals.

Besides a law degree, Kris is also armed with another professional degree, in the Bachelor of Accountancy, and spent close to 5 years in accounting, audit and tax practices, as a Certified Public Accountant (CPA).

Imbued with the passion to drive law behind commerce, Kris founded Zenith Law Corporation (“Zenith Law”) in 2015, barely 4 years after being called to the Singapore Bar. Zenith Law has since progressively expanded to include a broad network of lawyers and specialist partners.

Kris has represented many corporate clients and individuals in litigation, arbitration and mediation. Kris also advises and acts for main contractors, sub-contractors and MCSTs across all Singapore court levels, in Strata Titles Boards applications and in other dispute resolution tribunals.

Areas of Practice

Kris does both contentious and non-contentious legal work, and acts for corporate entities and individuals in litigation, arbitration, mediation including applications to the Strata Titles Boards.

Contentious work include advising and representing clients in building and construction disputes, contractual disputes, shareholders' disputes, MCST-related matters, family-related disputes, criminal defence, personal actions including defamation and personal injury claims, probate administration and estate planning and last power of attorney and deputyship applications.

Non-contentious legal work include advising clients, drafting of building and construction related documents, shareholders agreement, collaboration agreement, investment agreement and other types of commercial contracts and providing advice to companies, to registered entities including MCST and societies, and to individuals relating to probate administration, estate planning, legacy protection and lasting power of attorney.
